Decision	DENIED — not medically necessary at the requested level of care

Why we made this decision. Our physician reviewer reviewed the information submitted. Inpatient rehabilitation is covered when the member requires, and can reasonably be expected to actively participate in, an intensive rehabilitation program, generally three hours of therapy per day at least five days per week, with the active involvement of a rehabilitation physician. The records submitted show the member participated in 1.5 hours of therapy on 10/25/2026. Based on this information, a skilled nursing facility (subacute rehabilitation) is the appropriate level of care at this time.

Criteria used: Keystone Medical Policy MP-REH-007, Acute Inpatient Rehabilitation. You may request, free of charge, a copy of this policy and of all documents, records and other information relevant to this decision.
